

15 HORSES BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE IN GALT STABLES

Grain Elevator Saved by Quick Work—Damage Put at $20,000.

Fifteen horses were burned to death in a fire in the stables of the William M. Galt and Company, grain firm, first street and Indiana avenue, early last night, causing damage estimated at $20,000. The blaze for a time threatened the huge grain elevator of the company.

Smoke pouring from the stables gave the first indication of the blaze to passersby shortly before 8 o'clock, who notified E. Doyle, office employee. He turned in the first alarm, and firemen, responding, turned in a second alarm upon their arrival, bringing ten engine companies to the scene.

Four horses near the street door were killed by the fire, however, the entire stable floor which extends from Indiana avenue to D street, was smoke filled when firemen arrived.

Streams of water turned into the smoking interior of the stables brought the blaze under control after an hour. Fire Chief Watson responded to the second alarm and directed work of the firemen.

Cause Unknown. William M. Galt, proprietor, was called to the blaze. He conducted an investigation, but neither he nor Fire Chief Watson could attribute any cause for the blaze. The horses were placed in the stables at 5 o'clock. Michael J. Barrett, watchman, said no one had been in the stables in the meantime to his knowledge.

There was the same establishment eight years ago caused damage estimated at $50,000. The blaze at that time was confined to the grain elevator and burned for almost a month. Firemen were able to save the huge grain elevator surrounding the stables last night by quick work.

DEGREE WORRIES ITALIANS IN TUNIS

ROME, Jan. 21.—The French government decree to the effect that all foreigners in Tunis may continue to remain there only on the condition that they take out naturalization papers and become French citizens is causing a great deal of apprehension in Italy, for there are about 100,000 Italian citizens in that French colony who might be faced with the dilemma of abandoning their citizenship or the land in which they have immense interests.

The assurance given by former Premier Briand that the decree will not be applied as far as Italian citizens are concerned, is not sufficient, it seems, to remove the apprehension in some political circles and in certain sections of the press, for it is feared that the existence of such a decree is very dangerous to the Italian residents in Tunis, for it may at a future date be applied alike to them.

The finish of the three-mile chase through the heart of Washington yesterday noon between Washington headquarters police and alleged bootleggers is pictured here. The fugitive car was wrecked when it crashed into a truck at the corner of Fifth and O streets northwest. The driver of the fugitive machine escaped. The car swerved into the tree shown in the background after striking the truck. This same tree was struck by an automobile driven by Detective Arthur Scrivener in his chase for Thurman Brown, a negro, a year ago, whom he captured near this scene.

ELECTION OF POPE FOLLOWS RITES LASTING 9 DAYS

The hands of the cardinal camerlengo and of the three representative cardinals who succeed one another in order of seniority every three days. About 7 or 8 o'clock on the morning of the eleventh day the cardinals assemble in the Pauline Chapel and assist at the mass of the cardinal dean.

After mass they assemble in the Sistine Chapel where the actual voting takes place. There six candles are lighted on the altar on which rests the paten and chalice to be used in the voting. The pater noster is recited. Each cardinal has a small writing desk. When ready to vote they enter the Sistine Chapel accompanied by their conclavists bearing their portfolios and writing materials. Prayers are said by the bishop sacristan. The ballots are distributed and then all are excluded except the cardinals, one of whom bolts the door.

Four Forms of Election. There are four possible forms of election, scrutinium, compromissum, acclamation, and inspiration. The usual form is that of scrutinium, or secret ballot, and in it the successful candidate requires a two-thirds vote, exclusive of his own. When there is a close vote, and only then, the ballot of the Pope-elect, which like all the others is distinguishable by text of scripture written on one of its outside folds is opened to make sure that he did not vote for himself.

Each cardinal deposits his vote in the chalice on the altar and at the same time takes the prescribed oath, "Teator Christus Domini quem me iudicaturus est me eligere quem secundum Deum iudico eligi debet et quod idem in accessu praetabo." which translated is, "I call to witness the Lord Christ who will be my judge that I am electing the one whom according to God I think ought to be elected."

Check On the Ballots. For this election a secret ballot three cardinals (scrutators) are chosen by lot each time to preside over the operation of voting; three others (revisors) to control the count of their colleagues and still three others (informants) to collect the ballots of the sick and absent cardinals. If the sick cardinals cannot attend the balloting then the three informants go to their cells and bring back their votes in a box to the three cardinals presiding who count them and put them in the chalice with the others.

Then, all the ballots having been shaken up and counted, if the number agrees with the number of electors, the chalice is brought to the table and the ballots, on the outside of which appear the names of the candidates, are passed from hand to hand to the third cardinal who reads the names aloud.

All present are provided with lists on which the names of all the cardinals appear, and it is customary for the cardinals to check off the votes as they are read. Then the three cardinals revisors verify the result which is proclaimed as definite.

Nurse Held as Slayer Tries to Break Jail

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Olivia Stone, former nurse, charged with the murder of Ellis G. Kinkadee, formerly of Cincinnati, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the Tombs jail here, it was learned tonight.

The attempt was made at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Stone left the breakfast room in high spirits and made a sudden dash for freedom, rushing down the stairs. A matron ran after her, calling for the warden. The former nurse dashed for the warden's kitchen, where her progress was stopped by the warden's red-tailed terrier, which jumped growling in front of her.

This temporary check enabled the warden and the matron to catch up with Mrs. Stone. She seized a knife from the kitchen table, but it was wrested from her.

Mary Garden's Conductor Bolts, Following Quarrel

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The second serious split within the ranks of the Chicago Opera Company occurred today when Chief Conductor Giorgio Polacco refused to hold a baton while Director Mary Garden sang her season's farewell to a Chicago audience.

Polacco, who was brought from Europe by Miss Garden, declared he would not direct her final appearance here in "Louise," after a quarrel with the director.

When Lucien Muratore, world famous tenor, left the company manager at the Union Station, he named Polacco as one of his supporters against Miss Garden's reign as head of the opera company. When programs were changed to read that Gabriel Grovlez, assistant conductor, would wield the baton, it bore out Muratore's claim.

Flynn Burial Tomorrow. Funeral services for Joseph A. Flynn, 325 A street northeast, station master at the Union Station, who died Friday, will be held at the Centennial Baptist Church, Seventh and I streets northeast, tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be at the Congressional Cemetery. Flynn, lasting four months, was caused by a complication of diseases, was the cause of his death.

New Fight May Trisect China

General Wu's Threats May Result in Setting Up Another Government.

PEKIN, Jan. 21.—The opposition of Gen. Wu Pei Fu to the present Peking administration has taken another turn, a telegram having been received from the headquarters of the general to the effect that unless Premier Liang is dismissed, the provinces of Kiangsu, Hupeh, Honan, Kiangsi, Shantung and Shensi will declare all relations severed with the northern cabinet.

A second telegram with the same information and with the addition that no agreements with the Liang cabinet will be considered binding, is said to have been dispatched to the foreign legations. Should this plan be carried through there is a possibility of there being three recognized governments in China so far as the Chinese themselves are concerned.

In addition to Peking and Canton, Gen. Liang is forming a province, may set up an administration with headquarters at Hankow. Such a move would probably enlist the support also of the Chekiang province, which is now independent.

Gen. Liang is said to have arranged for the issue of $7,000,000 in treasury notes to be taken up by two Chinese banks with the salt surplus as security. The foreign salt inspectorate has given assurances that funds will be forthcoming for amortization. The notes will mature in two years, bearing interest at 15 per cent and a discount of 32 1/2-10.

1922 WILD YEAR, ASTROLOGER SAYS

Mars Is Leering at Venus and Period of Debauchery Is Predicted.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The year 1922 is going to be one grand riot of wild debauchery, according to Mme. de Telemme, who has taken the place of the late Mme. de Thebes as the recognized spokeswoman of French astrologers. Mme. de Telemme is not referring to Montmartre, or the Latin Quarter, or the all-night cafes of any part of Paris. Her dictum goes for the whole world.

It all comes from the fact, patent to all those to whom star-gazing is an exact science, that old Mars is leering at Venus in the most approved heavy villain style. He did that several times in the course of history, Roman or other, but this time there's no mistaking his intent.

"Venus will be under a pernicious star, which will be governed by Mars," is how Mme. de Telemme puts it in her almanac. Asked to explain a little more fully, Mme. de Telemme, remarking the slightly incredulous air of her interviewer, replied: "Mon cher monsieur, this is no joke. Astrology is not something to be laughed at. What I predict is absolutely serious. I am sorry, but it is not for me to say anything that is in the stars, but just what I see there. Every time that Mars and Venus have been under the signs which will govern them in 1922 liberty has become license, all restraint has been cast aside, immorality has ruled. It will be the same in 1922."

Another prediction. It will be the wettest year America has ever seen. But the enforcers of the Volstead act need not worry. The astrologer means that there will be lots of rain throughout the United States. Otherwise, she said, America has nothing to look forward to except prosperity.

Former Congressman Leaves $8,000 to Butler

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Napoleon Hungerford, negro, described by his benefactor as "my friend and butler," is left $8,000 by the will of William J. Coombs, former Representative in Congress and president of the Brooklyn Savings Institution. The will shows Coombs' estate to be about $200,000.

The chief beneficiary is Mrs. Mary C. Fox, his daughter, who receives $65,000 and a fund for the maintenance of an automobile and chauffeur. William H. Coombs, of Wakefield, R. I., is given $60,000.

from the machine as it swerved into a tree in front of 502 O street after the collision. Chauffeur Robey, turning the wheel of the police car over to Detective Waldron, gave chase.

Escapes Over Fence. The fugitive dashed through a colored residence, Robey forced down the door and continued the chase through the house over back fences but finally lost track of the man. Up to a late hour last night he had not been arrested.

The most seriously injured was Samuel Nally. He was removed to the Garfield Hospital suffering from deep lacerations about the head and body. Williams sustained internal injuries and was rushed to Freedman's Hospital. Mrs. Erwin and the two injured detectives were privately treated.

The badly wrecked liquor car and the half gallon jars, most of which were broken, were taken to the Second precinct station. The police car was driven to a repair shop.

Kane was lodged at the First precinct station. Inspector Grant said last night he would be charged with numerous cases of traffic violation and with transporting liquor. The two arrested by the Alexandria authorities are charged with aiding and abetting the fugitive to escape. The police say a machine in the lead of the liquor car blocked their chase through Alexandria. John T. Gasson, 22 years old, address unknown, and Elmer B. Ardner, 15 years old, 805 1/2 Fifth street northwest, occupants, are held under $1,000 bonds by Alexandria authorities as alleged accomplices.

Two Taken in Virginia.

Ray McClellan and Al Schwartzki, both of Washington, are held in Fredericksburg, Va., after their capture early yesterday morning by Virginia police. They were stopped following a short chase, during which the tires on their machine were burst by shots from the police. Police confiscated 150 gallons of corn whiskey found in the rear of the machine.

Sergeant Chickester, of Fredericksburg, and Edwin Lawrence and Randolph Brookes, sons of Constable William E. Brookes, of Washington, Va., arrested the men. They were returning from a futile chase after a bootleg car, which earlier in the evening had swept by them, knocking down and breaking the leg of Constable Brookes, 70 years old. They followed the car to Alexandria, Va., but could not overtake it. The second machine was met by them on their return. Pistol shots soon brought it under control, however.

DRUG RING BARED BY WOMAN VICTIM

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Workings of the "million dollar drug ring" were revealed tonight in the confession of Mrs. William Bruce, 24 years old, following the death of her husband, Dorothea Wardell, 20 years old, of New York and Boston, from an overdose of narcotics.

Both women today were found on the Montreal Express unconscious from excessive use of drugs. Mrs. Wardell died on the way to the hospital. Mrs. Bruce is reported near death.

Hundreds of girl drug fiends are being sent by a Canadian band to smuggle drugs and liquor across the Canadian border, Miss Wardell declared in a confession which is now in possession of Deputy Police Commissioner Simon, head of the narcotic division.

SCHOOL BOARD PLAN INDORSED BY FEDERATION

Citizen Bodies Favor Program and 50-50 Division Of Capital Expenses.

Complete indorsement of the Board of Education's school program of December 8, 1921, was voted at last night's meeting of the Federation of Citizens' Associations. To this decision, school matters was added an indorsement of the previous stand taken in favor of a Permanent School Building Commission. The motion to approve was made by Joseph C. Butler, chairman of the school committee.

After a discussion the federation went on record as intending to work even harder in the future in favor of a 50-50 division of taxes between the nation and the District. The Jones-Caraway bill setting no division recently passed by the Senate was disapproved.

Want Playground Fund

It was decided to ask Congress to appropriate money for playgrounds and for community centers for other needs of the government. To this decision, school matters was added an indorsement of the previous stand taken in favor of a Permanent School Building Commission. The motion to approve was made by Joseph C. Butler, chairman of the school committee.

The chairman of the streets and lights committee moved that the Association endorse the estimate of $50,000 submitted to Congress for needed street lighting and was given unanimous approval.

Instructions were given the utilities committee's representatives to the coming public hearing on street railways to urge the lowest rate schedule consistent with a fair return. William McK. Clayton, of the public utilities committee, reported the happenings during the day's hearing. Inspector Grant said service which was concluded yesterday before the public utilities committee.

Bus Line Hearing.

The utilities committee of the Association also was instructed to attend the hearing on a proposed bus line for Park road.

Two new delegates from the East Washington Heights Citizens' Association were seated. This association, which was taken into the federation at the last meeting, sent D. A. Abbott and T. E. Wheeler as delegates. Alexander R. Shepherd, Jr., was seated from the Georgetown Citizens' Association to take the place of A. K. Parris, resigned. A committee was appointed to visit the South Washington Citizens' Association and find out what their grievance is and find out why they resigned from the federation. President C. A. Baker presided at the meeting.

GAS PIPE LEADS TO CORN LIQUOR

Raiders Arrest Negro After Alleged Sale From Ceiling Tank.

"Gas" was being sold for $3 a "shot" but it was not being delivered in the ordinary way. Ezekiah Williams, colored, who runs a bootleg shop at 722 Eighth street southeast, was enjoying a prosperous Saturday night's business. He had almost completely sold his complete stock of "gas" when an agent of the Internal Revenue department entered the place and asked for a little "gas." Holding a pint bottle of a gas under a jet which extended from the ceiling, Williams turned on the lever and the bottle began to fill with corn liquor. This is what the agent expected and after paying for the goods he left.

When a raiding party from the Fifth precinct station visited the shop they found about a pint of liquor remaining in a five-gallon tank, which was neatly concealed in the ceiling. A gas pipe extended from the tank through the ceiling and a jet was attached. Police say Williams had been selling liquor in this manner for nearly a month. At the precinct station the negro was charged with illegal possession and selling. He was later released on bond.

The raiding party consisted of Precinct Detectives Wise and Salkeld, Lieut. Whitsatt and Internal Revenue Officer S. T. Rose.

Protest Negro's Extradition.

A committee of the National Race Congress of America, Inc., headed by Rev. W. H. Jernagin, Rev. J. H. Randolph, Rev. W. H. Brooks and Rev. J. Lewis Taylor, called at the State Department yesterday to file a protest against the returning of Matthew Bullock from Canada to North Carolina, alleging that his brother was lynched for the act upon which request for his extradition is based.

STOP THAT COLD WITH TINGLE'S LAXO ASPIRIN

At the first smarting of the eyes or nostrils, when your throat first tickles—take two tablets of TINGLE'S LAXO ASPIRIN. The relief is almost instantaneous. You will have a comfortable night's rest and awake with every vestige of the cold gone. The LAXO ASPIRIN produces natural, healthful perspiration which effectively attacks the cold. The mild digestant it contains, always all fear of after-discomfort. Important too, in combating colds, are the laxative qualities of TINGLE'S LAXO ASPIRIN. It removes the poisonous toxins of the body and the general tone of the system is restored to natural healthy condition.

Be sure when you ask for aspirin to ask for TINGLE'S LAXO ASPIRIN. The improved aspirin with the three points:—It's absorbed easily—It relieves pain quickly—It's the TINGLE'S LAXO ASPIRIN.

FIFTEEN ROUTED IN RAID ON GAME

Fifteen men were routed from a poker game when police raided the premises 1070 Thirty-first street northwest, shortly before midnight, and arrested James Henry Evans, 63 years old, said to be the occupant of the house.

Evans was charged at the Seventh precinct station with permitting gambling on the premises. He was later released on collateral. The others will be summoned as witnesses. The raiding party was in charge of Precinct Detectives Kuehling and Blackman.

8 LAWYERS FIGHT OYSTER WIDOW'S CLAIM TO ESTATE

Battle to Begin in Equity Court Friday Before Bailey.

Mrs. Cecil Ready Oyster, youthful widow of the late George M. Oyster, Jr., who is attempting to prevent further control of her husband's estate by the Probate Court, will find herself and her two attorneys, Daniel W. O'Donoghue and Arthur A. Alexander, faced by one of the most formidable batteries of legal talent yet to appear in a will case when Attorney Tobin and Graham, Darr, Whitford & Darr, Pellee & Ogilby and Edwin C. Brandenburg will try to persuade Justice Bailey in Equity Court next Friday that the control of the estate should remain in the Probate Court.

The attorneys appear for Henry N. Brawner, Jr., partner of the deceased husband in the dairy business, Capt. James P. Oyster and Mrs. Brandenburg. In his capacity as executor, and will fight the widow's attempt to bring the estate under control of the Equity Court. The preponderance of numbers may make a decided difference when the fight begins.

It is the intention of the larger number of attorneys to put an abrupt end to one side of the controversy over the Oyster estate and their efforts will be at first concentrated to have the widow's petition dismissed.

The attack made by the widow on the work of the court appraisers, C. C. James and Melvin Marques, who valued the personal property left by Oyster at only $35,252.55, has been ignored. The widow claimed that this property was worth $102,559.90. The appraisers have declared that they sought the advice of experts.

Blackhand Note Mystifies Police

Prisoner Released After His Finger Prints Are Compared With Those on Letters.

Releasing the Italian who was held at the sixth precinct pending investigation of the "blackhand" letters received by Louis P. Gatti, 726 Fifth street northwest, police yesterday admitted they were baffled as to who sent two demands for $15,000 with the threats of death to members of the Gatti family.

"The Italian, although he answered the description of the unidentified stranger who handed the threatening letter to two small boys at Fifth and I streets northwest, to be delivered to the Gatti family, is not the man wanted," said Inspector Clifford L. Grant last night. The prisoner was released after his fingerprints failed to coincide with those found on the letters.
